THE WILDERLY

AREPA&CO

01. Arepa & Co

Venezuelan Kitchen
14 Ash Avenue SE17 1UB

A vibrant celebration of Venezuelan street food culture. Arepa & Co serves up delicious cornmeal arepas, cachapas, and small plates full of bold, colourful flavours. Expect indulgent slow-cooked meats, plantain, cheese, and plenty of fresh herbs, with options for vegans and vegetarians too. Add cocktails, craft beers, and Latin music for a buzzing, laid-back dining experience that brings Caracas straight to Elephant Park.

@arepaandco
arepaandco.com

02. Badiani Gelato

Italian Gelato
1 Walworth Road SE17 1GA

An iconic destination for the fine art of Italian Gelato. Fun fact: according to the company's 'gelato genius' and owner, Paolo Pomposi, gelato is not Italian for ice cream but a different (better) creation entirely. It's creamier, it's served slightly less frozen (which tastes better) and, despite its creaminess, has a lower fat content. But what keeps people coming back are the heavenly flavours.

@badiani1932
badiani1932.com

03. Betty & Joan's

Gay Bar
9 Hewson Way SE17 1JS

Betty & Joan's is the fabulously flamboyant bar at the heart of Elephant Park's nightlife. By day, a welcoming spot for cocktails and light bites; by night, a glamorous cabaret venue celebrating drag, music, and comedy. Expect glitter, sequins, and an atmosphere alive with joy and inclusivity – a destination venue where everyone is welcome to let their hair down.

@bettyandjoans

04. Beza

Ethiopian Restaurant
8a Sayer Street SE17 1FH

Beza had been on the South London food scene since the early 2000s, before opening her self-named Ethiopian restaurant at Elephant Park in 2019.

Serving up traditional vegan dishes using locally grown ingredients, each dish is packed with freshness and flavour. Think warming stews, wholesome curries and traditional flatbread – a little slice of Ethiopia in Elephant & Castle.

CHANGE
Please

C H E L I

05. Change Please

Café
131 Walworth Road SE17 1RW

At Change Please, social enterprise and coffee expertise make the perfect blend. 100% of profits help people experiencing homelessness through training and support – including a living wage, housing, therapy, bank account and onward employment opportunities. Every cup or bag of coffee you buy helps change someone's life for the better.

Starting out with a single coffee cart in Covent Garden, Change Please now operates at multiple locations across London, including their cosy café here at Elephant Park.

06. Cheeky Chicos

Mexican Fusion Restaurant
Ash Avenue SE17 1GQ

Cheeky Chicos brings a taste of Mexico to the heart of Elephant & Castle.

Using a blend of locally sourced and authentic Mexican ingredients, you can enjoy tacos, tostadas and colourful sharing plates galore – not to mention delicious cheeky cocktails and tequila. All in a space made for a feel-good fiesta!

@cheeky_chicos
cheekychicos.co.uk

07. Cheli

Asian Fusion Restaurant
56-58 New Kent Road SE1 6FU

CHELI specialises in Cantonese, Shanghainese and fusion cuisine, using low and slow cooking techniques of Western cuisine. Enjoy speciality cocktails from the wine bar and watch the pastry chefs display their skills in front of the open kitchen. As well as classic dishes, you'll find seasonal specials and set menus available. CHELI is perfect for close friends, family and corporate gatherings, and wedding and birthday party bookings are also very welcome.

08. Feed the Yak!

Craft Beer Sports Bar
2 Sayer Street SE17 1FG

The new home of craft beer and sport in Southwark. Feed the Yak serves over 200 craft beers, with 16 lines of rotating draught and the freshest seasonal beers to take away or enjoy in front of their big screens.

Think football, beer, quizzes, board games, movie nights and more, in an inclusive space open to all.

Filishack

09. Filishack

Fast Fresh Filipino Food
15a Sayer Street SE17 1FY

Peckham-born, with Filipino heritage, brothers Jonathan and Justice started out with a food shack in 2014, upgrading in just two years to a food truck, before moving into their own shop in Peckham in 2021. And, today, they're serving their trademark fresh, flavourful, Filipino street food in their second location right here, in Elephant Park.
